FARANLASS A GOOD COLT.

Wins His Race Without Trouble—
No Further Interference With Racing at Delmar Is Attempted.

Racing proceeded at Delmar yesterday, a card of six events furnishing good sport, although the fields were mediocre in more than one case. No further trouble was experienced with the Delmar owners, the track, and it was the general opinion that there would be no further attempt at interference with the association.

Prosecuting Attorney Helden of St. Louis County appeared at the track yesterday and stated that there was absolutely no case on which Justice Eber had the right to issue warrants against the prosecuting attorney's sanction, as he did Wednesday. Sheriff Hencken also passed a part of the afternoon at the track to prevent the possibility of a riot.

The feature of yesterday's racing was the success of the Fizer stable, Lord Neville, Swordsman and Miss Golightly, winners of the last three races, all came from this stable, the sum total of their contributions in purses being $100 for the day.

Racing opened yesterday with a six-furlong event for 2-year-olds, Mada Bell being installed favorite at 5 to 2. Colonel Stone, one of the lightly weighted contenders, was made second choice, and was the medium of a considerable plunge, his odds being locked down to 2 to 1.

Lord Neville was well liked, and Sting came in for some support, although the Fizer stable was believed to have won. Colonel Stone and Mada Bell. The fact that there was a considerable difference in the weights, in Colonel Stone's case, caused many persons to play the gelding, and he went to the post as well supported as Mada Bell.

Unfortunately for the spectacular side of the race, Colonel Stone, the best of the start, being in motion when the flag fell, and securing a lead of two lengths at the start, he fell just as he was about to start, and his rider fell right after him. Colonel Stone, the rest of the field following close behind, and the race was over.

However, was anything close enough to the leader to cause him trouble, although Mada Bell responded gamely in a drive down the stretch, and ran a good race, finishing second. Varner, who was at long odds in the betting, had secured third position without much difficulty.

What was considered the feature event of the day was the fifth race on the card, a selling event at a mile and a half, in which the writers participated. Swordsman carried top weight, of the bunch and was installed favorite at 5 to 2, and even money was offered for him.

The outcome proved, before the race, however, handicapping seemed to give La Spira, ever, a good argument, and she was heavily backed by the crowd at 5 to 2 and 2 to 1. To Eugene's surprise, she was not broken in for considerable support.

The field got away almost immediately, and a good start was made. La Spira burst of speed at the start and cutting the pace with her close up, she was leading at the third position and could have run over the leaders.

She was slightly out of the turn into the back stretch, but it did not interfere with her chances in the least. She dropped back to the account of it.

La Spira ran absolutely last for the entire journey, only once coming into the picture, and that was when she was moved up to Swordsman, her head showing for one instant before she was lost, and once in the stretch it was apparent that she was not to win.

Barrica proved the surprise of the race in the home. Huddled along by her rider she came down the stretch, and she was well, and it was only a furlong from home that she was collared by Swordsman. The race was a close one, but Barrica hung on, forcing Swordsman to exert himself, the latter's rider working vigorously to the finish, although he had to use his whip. Barrica took the place from Eugene's S. while La Spira finished last.

La Spira seemed to have a good race home, though at the stable turn she looked like a factor. The race showed the eight pounds difference in the weights carried a few days ago when she won with Swordsman running.
